COMMENTS/HISTORICAL INFORMATION:

This property is a c. 1920-1925 frame Cape Cod-style residence clad in vinyl siding. The house has an enclosed front porch and/or later one-story room addition on the façade, and two later c. 1950 additions on either side. Windows are a mix of picture windows, casement, and double-hung sash, either in wood or aluminum. The property has a very large stone and brick chimney on the eastern addition, and a small stuccoed chimney on the main house. The entire structure has a standing-seam metal roof. A gabled roof dormer is on the front façade; the single window is a 2/2 double-hung sash, and the entire dormer is clad in vinyl. The foundation was obscured by brush and not easily discernible; it may be stuccoed.
